The Twentieth Century Club Red Cross workshop at 1301 Connecticut avenue is open every morning from 9:30 to 1 p.m., and also on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 2 to 5 o'clock.
Last week a series of lessons on the making of surgical dressings was begun for those who are working under the auspices of the club's Red Cross committee. Sewing of hospital garments can be done either in the shop or at home. Surgical dressings must be done in the workshop under the direction of those having the work in charge. Samples of dressings and garments are being made by Twentieth Century Club members for the Red Cross to be sent to all parts of the country as patterns for those needing instruction.
